The government has just issued a third bulletin discussing the need of farmers' wives. We haven't the time or space in this paper to name the needs of just one we know of.

The best recommendation a grocer can have is cleanliness. Clean windows, clean street and even out into the street should be cleaned in order that no filth can be blown back into exposed vegetables.

Splendid and entertaining pictures are shown every night at both the Rex and the Opera House. The National Fox hunt showing Messrs. Arch and Woods Walker and their dogs was greatly enjoyed Monday afternoon and night.

Guy Davidson claims the Dixie Highway, John Farra claims the Boone Highway, now the next highway that comes thru Lancaster we claim for John Stormes and it is to be known as the Excuse Our Dust Highway. Harry Ware says he only wants to ride over the one going to Hyattsville.

Every one who has a horse connection is working over time, fighting against the dust devil by which we are enveloped, encompassed and all but swallowed up. In spite of all efforts, however, there is no relief in sight until we get oil, which we are glad to say will be had at an early date, the money having been readily made up for it.

All other considerations aside, it is common sense to celebrate Christmas when holly and mistletoe are in bloom, and Thanksgiving Day when turkeys are in season. By the same process of reasoning, the obvious time for Clean-Up Day is in April, when houses and yards show the wear and tear of Winter and when the flowers of earliest Spring inspire by their brave, gay efforts to brighten a brown earth.

It is beginning to dawn upon the intellect of this blessed country of ours that the worst trouble with business is due to the overworking of "Be-it-enacted." When one thinks of the 62,000 laws passed by congress and state legislatures in the last five years and the 65,000 decisions of courts of last resort, we wonder how business men can possibly know them all and conduct their business in such a way as to keep out of jail.

In Shreveport, Louisiana, they were once fly-infested and had a high death-rate. The city passed an ordinance compelling all dealers in foodstuffs and all owners of stables and barns to install a huge fly-trap made of wire screening, on their premises. Business men who did not deal in foodstuffs and housewives with no barns on their premises, watched the fine way in which these great traps caught and held thousands of flies, and through sheer civic pride and desire for cleanliness, everybody, whether affected by the law or not, began to install traps. Last year, Shreveport, Louisiana, made a new record. It had not a single death from infantile paralysis, and only one death from typhoid. It costs seventy-five cents a year to run a fly-trap.

FINE BOY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Higgins, who are living on the farm of the late Mr. John Simpson, are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy. The young man has been named Chester Frank.

PROUD OF SISTER.

Master Clay Kauffman Shackelford is very proud of a little sister who was left at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Emma Kauffman, last Thursday morning. He says he will be old enough to look after this young lady and no other beau need ever apply. She was named Mary Kean for the paternal grandmother.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

Hog cholera causes more loss in Kentucky than all other diseases of animals. An illustrated lecture will be given at the Court House Saturday afternoon on this dread disease by an expert from the experiment station who will give methods of prevention and control. Men, women and children are invited and all farmers and those interested in stock should attend.

GOOD SHOW COMING.

Spend the most absorbing evenings since you first began attending the Movies by going to the Opera House tonight (Thursday), Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee. Besides the splendid pictures one always sees at Roma's Opera House, there will be seen a high class vaudeville, of dancing, singing and other musical acts. A splendid performance has been booked for the Saturday matinee.

THREE BOYS.

The Stork editor noticed a smile on several faces from the Buckeye vicinity and when inquiring into their happiness found one of their neighbors had been favored by the Stork passing over town and leaving three boys at his house. Mr. Wesley Simpson is the favored man. One boy weighs five pounds, another five and one half pounds while the third weighs six pounds. All are strong and healthy, and are named Tom, Dick and Harry.

A REMARKABLE CROWD.

Bro. Politt, of the Methodist church, has just returned from Commencement at Kingswood College. During commencement week he preached twice a day in the chapel which was inadequate to hold the large number who attended and the remarkable thing about this crowd was that there was no one using tobacco in any form, not once even smoking. This not only speaks well for the Principal, J. W. Hughes, but for the young men who attend this college and those who attend the exercises.

THE BOONE WAY ROUTED THROUGH LANCASTER.

The Boone Way meeting called to meet at Mt. Vernon last Monday night was attended by representatives from almost every county along the proposed highway and interest was intense throughout the entire meeting. Mr. John M. Farra was the only representative from Lancaster, but that he performed his duties well is attested by the fact that he succeeded in having the Boone Way routed through Lancaster. The route had previously been permanently fixed from the South to Cumberland Gap. At the meeting Monday night the following route was finally decided upon:

Cumberland Gap to Middlesboro; thence to Pineville; thence to Corbin; thence to London; thence to Mt. Vernon; thence to Crab Orchard; thence to Stanford; thence to LANCASTER; thence to Danville; thence to Harrodsburg. The association decided to leave the locating of the remainder of the route at a meeting to be held at Harrodsburg the latter part of May. The routing of the Boone Highway through Lancaster, means much to this community and every public-spirited citizen should rejoice in the great achievement.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Organization Effected Last Night With Many Members.

As a result of a call issued by Mayor Davidson last Monday, asking that the business men and citizens meet at the police court room on Wednesday night, about fifty responded and an organization was launched to be known as the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce, with about twenty-five charter members. The following officers were unanimously elected to serve for one year: J. E. Stormes, President, R. L. Elkin, Vice President and L. G. Davidson, Secretary. The membership consists of the citizens and business men of the town and community and a committee was appointed to solicit new members; this committee is composed of Dr. J. B. Kinnard, J. M. Mount, J. S. Haselden, H. V. Bastin and S. F. Hughes. This newly organized body went on record and unanimously voted a resolution endorsing the Blue Grass Dixie Highway Association and agreed to stand solidly for the Cincinnati route of the Dixie Highway, via Covington, Lexington, Crab Orchard, Somerset and to a point on the Tennessee line at or near Albany. A committee was appointed to meet with the Board of Commerce of Lexington at a conference called by that body to meet today in the interest of their several communities and of Central Kentucky. There will be another meeting tomorrow (Friday) evening at the police court room and every citizen of the town and county is asked and earnestly requested to be present.

HORSE SHOW

ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD TO TOWN
Last Monday.

The annual horse show held each County Court day in April, was the largest seen here in years last Monday. While the horses were not up to the usual quantity, they made up for it in quality and the show was considered by many to have been the best held here in years. That the people still enjoy these horse shows was manifested by the fact that the largest crowd seen here in many months was on hand and handed out applause to their favorite animals.

Billy Burton's "Bluecher" made a splendid show and attracted much attention and had many admirers in the crowd.

Frank Foley, of Hackley, was on hand with his handsome saddle "High Preston" by Carroll Preston, he is really bred and a good individual.

"Gay Boyd" owned and shown by N. W. Rogers, of Paint Lick, was very much admired and was decidedly the best walking horse on the ground.

That noted stallion "All Peavine" bred and owned by that master of horsemen, R. S. Scudder, of McKinney never looked better and made many new friends here Monday.

J. Nevin Carter, of Stanford, the proud owner of "Kentucky Gentleman" was on the ground early and this magnificent horse held a good crowd around him throughout the entire show.

Ray and Amon, of Buckeye, made a splendid show with "Headlight", a beautiful bay, by Red Leaf, a horse well known in this vicinity and the sire of some splendid animals.

Duke of Denmark Jr. was very much admired and Clarence Beasley, his owner is very proud of the record he has made for him in the two years he has owned him.

Hamilton's Chief, in the hands of Felix White, but owned and controlled by the Government, is a beautiful cheanut stallion sired by Bourbon Chief and proved very popular with the crowd. Golden Emerald, owned by Embury and Yantis, made his initial appearance at this show and was very much admired. He is royally bred, being by Golden King and out of an Emerald Chief mare. This horse is only four years old, but very promising.

Kentucky's Choice and Chester Chief were not on hand but were ably represented by their manager, Mr. Joe McDowell, of Danville. Kentucky's Choice's winnings were on display in the window of McRoberts drug store and attracted unusual attention.

Chester Dare, owned by R. M. Moss, of Bryantsville, is a handsome individual, being sired by old Chester Dare and is a horse with as much style as you will see anywhere.

Rex Moki, by Rex Peavine and out of a Silver King mare, owned and exhibited by P. E. Parish, of Crab Orchard, made a fine show and was much praised.

Mr. Robert Burnside exhibited a nice horse, Rex, by Rex Peavine, the property of W. A. Price. This horse's dam was an On Time mare and was a nice one.

Mr. Lem Teater, of Bryantsville, was driving a nice horse, but the writer failed to get his name. Lem wouldn't own one unless he was good and well bred, so you will have to ask him for his breeding.

The pony show was fine and amused the children during the entire show.

Diamond Dick, controlled by J. W. Sweeney was looking fat and fine and Jesse is very proud of the showing he is making this season.

"Shelbark" the beautiful pony of Ray and Amon, of Buckeye is looking fine and was very much admired.

"Silver Silt", another Shelbark owned by Ham and Albridge, of Hyattsville, is beautifully marked and a handsome pony.

"Barlowe" never looked better and was admired by all. He is owned by R. I. Burton of Bryantsville, but is in charge of W. B. Burton of this city this season.

"Major C. Jr." decidedly the smallest pony on exhibition and a true shetland type, being only 42 inches and as good in conformation and finish as one cares to see. Owned by R. L. Elkin. Most of the horses mentioned above are advertised in this issue of the Record and any one wishing to see their pedigree can do so.

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Lancaster Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen in the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Lancaster adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

W. C. Davis, tailor, Danville Pike, Lancaster, says: "My kidneys were disordered and I suffered from aching pains across the small of my back. The irregular kidney action obliged me to rise at night. I have considerable bending to do in my work and I became easily tired and languid. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me."

Nothing So Good for a Cough or Cold.

When you have a cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. There are many who consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy unsurpassed. Mrs. J. A pessimist is a queer fellow. He couldn't be much else, because he is a pessimist.

He borrows your horse and then kicks at his gait.

He knows he would prosper by good roads and the Dixie Highway coming thru Lancaster and yet he gives it a kick for fear it will cost him something.

THE CARE OF YOUNG CHICKS IN MAY AND JUNE.

All breeders who expect to exhibit this fall have had their chicks hatched off for two or three months, but there are just scores of people who didn't set a hen until in April. I had a friend come to me the other day (this being the latter part of April) saying that he had ordered a fine setting of eggs. He hadn't gotten his eggs yet, and by the time he gets his eggs and gets his chicks off it will then be the last of May. He may be able to raise good chicks from those eggs, but for my part I would rather have one chick hatched in the early spring (February or March), than to have a half dozen hatch when his will.

Still there are going to be lots of chicks hatched in May, so we must plan how to give them the best of care and attention in order that they will develop into large healthy birds. The greatest thing to contend with will be the extreme heat. If anyone has an orchard that is good and shady, or some other well shaded spot, then this is the place for these May and June hatched chicks. If exposed to the hot sun too much they will act as though they are very sleepy and sluggish.

Then another great problem for late hatched chicks is that there are more lice moving around then than in the early spring, and if they happen to get on them and on the hen, unless something is done at once they will kill every one of them. Late hatched chicks do not seem to be as able to fight them off as the earlier hatched ones.

While the hen is setting go to her nest every few days and dust her well with some good insect powder. Also it is a good idea to take your spray and making a crude carbolic acid, one quart to three parts of kerosene. Spray this all around the nest and the quarters where the setting hens are kept. Dust the hen again just before taking her off the nest then you are ready to remove your brood.

After a few days if you see by inspection that you have not cleaned the chicks of the lice, then it is a good idea to take each chick and grease its head just a little with salty meat grease lard. Then it would be no bad idea to let the little fellows have a little sunshine to keep the grease from bothering them so much. Always remember that plenty of shade and to be free from lice is what they need most.

I do not feed the chicks until they are at least forty-eight hours old. Then I begin to feeding them on commercial chick feeds (have used a number of different kinds and find them all to be nearly the same in results), from the very beginning. I feed about five times a day until they get to be a week old, then I begin to cut it down until I get to feeding three times a day. I use manufactured drinking fountains and like them fine, for there is no way for the chicks to paddle in the water and get their feet wet. I am very careful to see that they have plenty of clean, fresh water before them at all times.

After these chicks begin to get up about a month old I begin to feed them cracked wheat (cracked once), and cracked corn. I have a small hand mill, grind the grain and can be regulated to make it any size desired. I crack the grain in proportion to the size and age of the chicks. Always feed the grain in the grass or in litter, so that they will have to work for it. I like for them to learn to scratch early and to keep it up all the time while they are growing, for I have found the saying "the working hen is the paying hen" to be very true.

From that age on I still feed grain, allowing them plenty of range with green stuff on it. Some poultrymen do not approve of feeding grain all the time, but I get splendid results from this kind of feeding. It may be because I do not try to handle as many as some poultrymen do.

BLAME IT ON THE WAR.

"If you feel too strong to work, If you want to loaf and shirk Use the universal quirk, Blame it on the war."

If perchance you think this verse is so bad it can't be worse, Do not stop to fume and curse— Blame it on the war.

FARM FOR SALE.

Farm containing 96 acres, three miles north of Lancaster on the Lexington pike, well improved with good stock barn and all necessary out buildings, with never failing springs and splendid young orchard in full bearing. The residence contains ten rooms, with bath and other modern conveniences. This has been mostly in grass for the past 14 years and is now ready to grow hemp or tobacco. Alex West, Lancaster Ky.

ANY BODY CAN GET A HOME

Any Good Man Can Get From One To Ten Years To Pay For It.

I have four first class farms, containing about 1400 acres of Garrard County's best soil, which I will cut in to parcels to suit purchasers, in amounts from five acres to an entire farm.

310 acres, fertile soil, on good pike, two miles from a thriving village and 14 miles from one of the best graded schools in the State, conducted by four experienced teachers, children conveyed to and from school at the expense of the District; intelligent, cultured and hospitable people for neighbors, in two miles of High Bridge, where boating, and other methods of entertainment are at hand. Five room residence, two tenant houses, 3 acre tobacco barn, 150 acres in grass. Farm is near the proposed million dollar dam to be constructed on Kentucky river, which will furnish electric light for the entire country. It can be divided into three farms.

The Buxton Brown farm near Camp Dick Robinson, 410 acres, five good barns, all new, splendid residence, thirty foot concrete silo, concrete pools, lots of hemp, corn, and tobacco land.

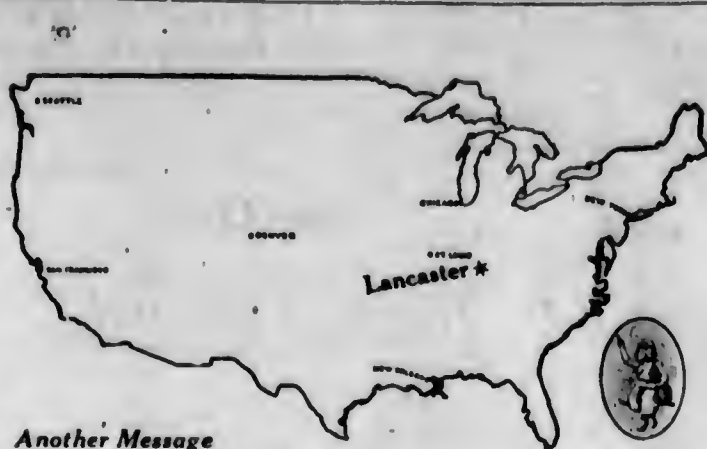

Robinson Brothers farm contains 350 acres, one stock barn, two tobacco barns, seven room residence. Most of this is sand stone land and any farmer in Garrard county knows this kind of land is the land that grows the highest price tobacco, as well as corn and hemp. The evidences are on the farm to bear out this statement. This farm is located on the Kemper Lane near Lexington pike.

The Beasley farm, one and one half miles from Lancaster, on Lexington pike, 280 acres, good brick residence, tobacco barn, stock barn, in reach of the Lancaster Graded school. The soil is splendid, well watered and the farm fronts one and one quarter miles on the Lexington pike, in easy reach of town and the entire front can be used as building sites, which I propose to cut in any size to suit purchaser.

I will exchange any of this property for Garrard county property at the same price I will sell for cash. If you wish to exchange, come with yours priced as you would sell for cash. You can get this land just as cheap by exchange as by purchase if you desire to change your location.

Now these are four as good farms as there are in the county. If you have been a failure in life, stay at home. If you are the kind who never dreams any failures, I want to see you. These are live farms and want to see live men. Call on or write,

J. I. Hamilton, Lancaster Ky.

Another Message

To the Business Men of Lancaster

Business fights shy of dead towns. A sure sign of a dead one is the lack of local pride. People who live in a live, prosperous town show it. Their stores are attractive, their streets clean, their homes are well painted. Nothing shows a lack of pride, a lack of prosperity, like paint-hungry buildings. Let's paint up. As the most durable and economical paint, we recommend

Removal Notice

Welsh & Wiseman Company

On or about May 5th we will move our entire stock of goods to the Lapsley Store rooms, in and adjoining the Hotel Annex on East Main street, formerly occupied by Pushin Brothers, where we will be temporarily located during the time required for erecting a modern store building on the site of our present premises.

Our original intentions were to remodel our old building, but the opportunity presented by these vacant store rooms enables us to completely vacate our present building, and we have decided to carry out a long-cherished plan of erecting just the kind of a modern store that we require for our ever-increasing business

The loyalty of our friends has made this possible, and we ask you to visit us in our temporary quarters, where you will find the same high quality of merchandise, and a most hearty welcome.

Welsh & Wiseman Co.,

Danville, Kentucky.

DON'T NEGLECT THE GARDEN

Gardening time is here. We have hardly seen such weather as has been showered upon all Kentucky for the past month. True we need rain, but it will come, if we plant God will water as he always has. But back to gardening. Be sure and devote some time and attention to this feature of your work and you will save much money by it, besides preparing a large quantity of good healthy food for your family and for some of your improvident neighbors.
A good garden will reduce the high cost of living.

A MYSTERY.

Keep your eye on that white canvas over in the thicket or along the old fence-row. Presently you will see a man come out of the house in his shirt sleeves, and you'll see him saunter over and get down on his knees and raise up a corner of the canvas and peep under. And then you will see him put on his coat and make a break for town and you will notice several of his neighbors going thru the same performance. And when they meet you will hear such remarks as "leaves on 'em as big as a dime," and "a quarter wouldn't cover 'em". Guess what they were talking about.

A MAKER OF LANGUAGE.

"You might as well try to sink a battleship with a shotgun, to batter down the rock of Gibraltar with peas and a blow-pipe, or dam Niagara with hair pins and toothpicks as try to have morality without Christianity." This is a characteristic saying of Billy Sunday.
An instructor in English at Columbia University is the latest defender of Sunday's unique style. No man of today, he says, is doing so much as Sunday in bringing new words into popular use, or in giving to old words new meaning and force.
But it is not slang that makes Sunday's language so unique. It is his direct way of saying things worth while.
It is impressionism applied to speech.
He puts the high-lights strong in the right spots.

MAN LIKE.

A local preacher tells the following story which many will say "was just like a man."
"Not long ago a bashful young man and his intended bride drove to my home from a short distance in the country, and in the presence of a few friends in my parlor went safely through the ceremony. On my pronouncing them husband and wife the young bridegroom did not seem fully able to meet the situation. The bride stood hush-ing at his side and he did not seem to realize that something needed to be said or done, but he was evidently intensely embarrassed. He stood an instant on one foot (and an instant is a very long time sometimes), and then an instant on the other. But suddenly a happy thought seemed to strike him, and grasping the bride's hand he shook it heartily, exclaiming, "Allow me to congratulate you!"

At one of our millinery stores, last week, a man came in with his wife and baby, the wife to buy a hat. He told his wife to set down and hold the baby and he would buy her hat, with that he began and tried on all the hats in the shop, with each one he would say to her, "well how do you like it". As he was no Apollo to begin with and had several weeks beard on his face she was not enthusiastic enough about any of them to cause him to part with his mney.

BOY SCOUT FUND CANVASS.

Steps to launch in Louisville a three-days' canvass for funds to be used in building up the Boy Scout organization were taken at a luncheon of the Executive Committee of the local Council of Boy Scouts, held yesterday at Kleins.
Ludwig S. Dale, National Field Commissioner of the Boy Scouts, was the speaker at the meeting. May 12, 13 and 14 were fixed as the dates of the proposed campaign, and $6,000 as the sum needed for a two years' budget.
It was announced that the sum needed would be used to provide for a paid executive whose work would be that of training men for duties as scoutmasters, organizing new troops and supervising the work generally. It was explained that there are at present but 100 scouts in Louisville, although a city of Louisville's size should have between 1,200 and 1,500.

There are not enough boy scouts in Lancaster. Every boy in Lancaster of the proper age should be a scout, and parents of boys should encourage this great movement to give their boys a normal, moral and religious training they cannot receive elsewhere.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

Editor Central Record,
If you have space in your valuable well edited and newsworthy paper, please insert this short letter, as it might be some of our old friends would like to hear from myself and family.
First I will say I am a fixture for life in El Paso, Texas. I own my home and live in the liveliest city in the southwest. We have a population of 60,000, improving every day. The Elephant Butte Dam is 90 per cent completed at a cost, to the government, of ten million dollars and it will supply water enough to irrigate thousands of acres of rich cultivating land with no fear of drought under the sun.
Living here, on the border, we have a little excitement once in a while, but it soon blows over. I hope for peace in Mexico in the near future for El Paso is handicapped to a great extent by the warring factions, for in time of peace our merchants do an immense business with Mexico.

I will also state that all the land under the irrigating ditches on the Rio

Commissioner from the Second District; the primary election to be held Saturday August 7th, 1915.

William F. Klair, Fayette County, Candidate for Re-election as Railroad Commissioner, Second District of Ky.
Subject to the action of the Democratic party in the August Primary.

The trend of the times in the United States is to bring the people nearer to one another. Inasmuch as the distances separating them cannot be physically reduced, the solution of the problem lies in the simplifying and perfecting of all means of Communication and transportation. Railroads, steamships, telegraph and telephony have, singly and collectively, brought the vast population of our country—a country of long distances into closer touch and greater unity of interest, yet with all our progress one means of communication and transportation has failed to keep pace with other means in the evolution. We mean, of course, good roads. The good roads movement is a national problem. It is not only economic, but also social and intellectual.
It reaches close to the very domestic structure of every American family.
For that reason fostering the good roads movement cannot be the responsibility of the Government—which is the prevailing opinion—any more than it can be that of an individual family.
It must be considered as the one interest in common among all those concerned, from the very smallest civic center to the Federal Government itself.

All readers of the newspapers are familiar with the project, which embraces the erection and maintenance of a splendid road from the lakes to Florida. There has been considerable friction concerning the proposed route through this state, one faction desiring it to enter the state at Cincinnati and run through the far famed Bluegrass region, and the other wanting the road to come by way of Louisville. In regard to the two routes there can be no proper comparison, as the Bluegrass route is in every way the more desirable. Future travelers over the road will always desire to see the richest and most beautiful part of Kentucky, and of course the Bluegrass has no rivals in the state in this particular. The rough and sandy soil of the Western part of the state could interest no tourist, whereas here we have the garden spot of the world, renowned in story and in song, to offer.

Getting the people closer together by enabling them to get in touch with one another, whether on foot or by wagon or by automobile or other means, thru satisfactory and well maintained highways, will be a great step toward insuring better citizenship by the betterment of educational, social and economic advantages. And so far as a few enterprising citizens of Lancaster can help to secure this highway, they will help, but what we need is a commercial club. What we need is a long pull, a hard pull and a pull altogether.
We need education along these lines.
A well organized, wide-awake commercial club would mean much to Lancaster.

The next General Assembly that meets in this state will be urged to enact a law to relieve the towns and cities from liability for damages to individuals growing out of personal injury due to careless or negligent acts of the employees and servants of the municipalities. These vexatious law suits which consume so small per cent of the tax fund of the towns are most generally without any merit.

Since the state is not liable nor are the counties for damages for personal injuries in such cases we see no good reason why the incorporated towns and cities of the state should not be relieved of this unnecessary burden. The constant expense of the taxpayers in satisfying these personal injury judgments or the cost incidental to resisting this nature of litigation could be more beneficially used in providing better water and light system or better streets.

The legislator who works out the bill and puts it upon the statute books to cover this condition will be entitled to credit and we think will get it.

Large Increase.

The attendance of the local Sunday schools was very noticeable Sunday, and it is hoped all the newcomers will continue in the good work, the Christian church had an attendance of 206 and altogether it was one of the biggest days in the history of this Sunday School. We have been unable to find out about the other Bible schools, but will make statements for them at any time.

HON. A. O. STANLEY.

WILL OPEN HIS CAMPAIGN AT FRANK-FORT MAY 1
Was at Headquarters in Louisville to Work With Organizers.

The first announcement made by Mr.
Stanley on arriving in Louisville was that he would open his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor at Frankfort, Saturday afternoon, May 1. He also announced that he would speak at Pikeville, Monday, May 17.
Further than that Mr. Stanley said he had not mapped out his campaign, but in a few days, he said, he would be able to make other speaking appointments.
It was stated that several conferences would be held by the Stanley followers within the next week. Mr. Stanley said he would be in the city constantly for the next two weeks.

CONGRESSMAN HARVE HELM GETS A FINE OF FIFTY DOLLARSIn Police Court For Assaulting A 20 Year Old Boy.

Considerable stir was caused in Stanford last Friday afternoon when Congressman Harve Helm assaulted Steward Carson, 20 year old son of W. A.
Carson. The trouble according to reports seem to have originated when young Carson learned that Congressman Helm was charging that some private business matters of his passing through the W. U. Telegraph office at Stanford, with which office Carson is connected as an employee, had become public and when the boy heard of the charge he called at Helms office to deny that the matters had become public through him or the office, and asked Helm for the source of the information upon which he made the charge, this Helm declined to give and the young man said "Well you go to the party and told you that and tell him that he's a d-m liar". Helm then struck the young man a blow with his fist about the temple which stunned him for a time.

To a warrant in the police court charging him with assault, Helm entered a plea of not guilty. Upon a trial of the case young Carson being the only witness the defendant was fined $50.00 and cost. In assessing the fine the police judge stated as a reason for so large a fine was on account of the defendant assaulting a minor.

Young Carson is well known and popular in this community, being resident to the Curreys, Yantis, and Davidson's, who are among the best and most prominent families in this county.

ROBERT STRANGE MAKES FUTILE ATTEMPT TO ES-CAPE FROM PEN.

Frankfort, Ky., April 26.—(Special.) —Robert Strange, a negro convict from Garrard county, his head and shoulders poked through a small aperture in his cell window, looked down at the ground of the prison yard sixty feet below, kicked his legs futilely in the air with in his cell and called lustily for help last night.

He had lost his taste for freedom from anything but the bondage of the iron bars that were pressing cruelly in his sides; but the voice outside the window confused the guards on duty as to the location of the noise. Guard Anderwood, on duty in the wing where Strange was confined, made his way round until he located the voice and summoned assistance. It required three men to restore Strange to his cell.

In the old wing the cells are along the wall and narrow windows look out on the prison yard. The bars in Strange's cell window had been bent outward at the top years ago. Long contemplation of their condition convinced Strange that he could squeeze his body through the top of the window. He tried it last night just after Underwood had made an hourly round.
His head and shoulders went through with difficulty, but the weight of his body jammed it down into the narrow interstice between two bars and there he was wedged, unable to extricate himself.

He had made a rope of his bedding and suspended it from the window, which was about sixty feet up.
Strange was making two or three years for cutting and wounding. It is said he once attempted to escape from jail at Lancaster.

CHIEF DEPUTYJAILER AIDED Pat Donahue, Of Jefferson County, Is Benefited By Tanlac.

Louisville, Apr. 25th.—Pat Donahue, Chief Deputy Jailer of this, Jefferson County, a man of unquestioned honesty and integrity, is among well known Louisville people who endorse Tanlac, the new medicine that is accomplishing such remarkable results in this city. Mr. Donahue's statement is as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to recommend Tanlac, as I have found it quite beneficial in my case. I have used the medicine for a general rundown condition of the system."

The demand for Tanlac, the preparation referred to by Mr. Donahue, is now very great in Louisville, and is steadily increasing. In this connection, L. T. Cooper, who is personally directing the introduction of the famous medicine, said:

"I am, indeed, gratified to see such marked enthusiasm, as I now feel justified in my prediction that Tanlac would prove just as successful in Louisville as it has in the larger cities. The system, besides being purified by Tanlac, is toned up and invigorated, as the preparation, aside from assisting the blood, reinvigorates the constitution, overcoming, as it seems to quickly do, nervousness, indigestion, nonassimilation of food, headaches, backache, dizziness, kidney complaints, general rundown condition of the system, and many other complaints that are so common to thousands in this section."

"Tanlac is especially valuable in catarrhal affection of the mucous membranes, which I consider the foundation of most ailments and diseases.
People who are affected with catarrh of the head, throat and stomach are generally moody and depressed, with an occasional dull headache, accumulations in the nose and throat, affected memory, and a depreciated sense of smell and taste, which finally results in an affected hearing."

Tanlac can now be bought in Lancaster at McRoberts drug store.

WELSH & WISEMAN CO.,

TO BEGIN AT ONCE CONSTRUCTION

Of Modern and Elegant Building

In Danville.

Elsewhere in this paper will be seen an announcement of removal of the Welsh and Wiseman Company, and an advertisement of "A Sale of Wreckage".

For some time, in fact, for the past five or six years, this firm has been planning for larger and more modern quarters, their present building having become inadequate to handle their large and constantly increasing business.
While it seems, upon first thought, a sacrifice to destroy the present house, yet, as a business proposition, the decision is by far the best step to be taken.

The new building will be made of handsome pressed brick, fire-proof, and of the most modern and convenient plans. Messrs Wiseman have spent many months time in hard and careful study of the plans, and their selection will embrace everything known to modern business houses. Large show windows will extend along Main and a portion of the space on Third streets. Especial attention was given to the securing of the best light.

The Welsh & Wiseman company has been in business at the present location for sixty-three years, where by fair and honest dealings and using every business policy they have enjoyed a continued and unprecedented growth.
The stock of goods will be moved to the Lapsley rooms on or about the 5th of May and immediately after the vacation of the present rooms the same will be torn down and a ten foot basement excavated.

The Central Record joins the good people of Danville in congratulating Messrs Wiseman.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Elmer East, a young man living on the Poor Ridge pike had a team to run away with him Wednesday morning, he was thrown from the wagon and his leg was broken. Dr. Gilbert was at once sent for and set the leg. The accident was not serious but painful and Elmer's friends hope to see him out soon.

CAMP DANIEL BOONEA Christian Training and Recreation Camp On The Kentucky River Near Valley View, Ky.

Camp Daniel Boone is situated on the Kentucky River at the mouth of Marble Creek, seven miles from Nicholasville and two and one-half miles from Valley View, at Sparks, Ky. It is situated just under the Massive Cliffs which are adjacent to Marble Creek, in one of the most delightfully wild and beautiful regions in America. No boy can look upon those towering heights and wild woods without thinking nobler thoughts, and realizing in a deeper sense the immensity of God's handiwork.

The boys live in double tents, which are supplied with floors, chairs and the famous Old Medal Cots. The camp site is high and dry. Every precaution will be taken to make living arrangements sanitary and comfortable. A new dining hall and assembly room has been built; in this hall which is known as Lexington Lodge, are games, a library, reading room, writing table, in addition to the kitchen and dining room of the camp. This will make even rainy days pleasant. A fleet of ten steel row boats, a bathing dock, diving stand, spring boards, chute-the-shutes, and one of the best sand beaches on the Kentucky river. For comfort, convenience and downright unalloyed fun, the camp equipment can hardly be surpassed.

There will be plenty of well cooked, wholesome food and good water. Milk, butter and eggs will be almost altogether supplied by nearby farmers.
Vegetables are being grown on the State Committee's farm for the use of the campers. Meat and groceries will be procured from the very best dealers.

It is not a military camp, although order and obedience are insisted upon; rather it is a large company of older and younger brothers who trust each other and try to help each other. Boys are put on their honor to do what is right. Self-government is encouraged.
To guard against accident, swimming is allowed at only the regular time and place.

Tobacco may not be used or kept by any one while connected with the camp.
Gentlemanly language and conduct are required of all campers wherever they may happen to be.

It must be understood that a boy will be dismissed if those in charge decide that his conduct and influence makes such action necessary.

Any boy over twelve years of age who sends in an application filled in and properly endorsed, may attend this camp.

The cost for the ten days is $7.00.
This does not include transportation to and from camp. $2.00 of the $7.00 must be sent in with the application at least two weeks ahead of time. They can accommodate only a hundred boys —send your application early. Special arrangements will be made for parties of seven or more. Ask Rev. F. M.
Tinder for particulars; or write to S.
A. Harris, State Boys' Work Secretary, 345 Association Building, Louisville, Ky., and make checks payable to Camp Daniel Boone.

The Lancaster Boy Scouts will attend this delightful camp in July and the Record hopes to have several letters from them during their ten days stay.

The Womans Club

(Edited By The Womans Club)

Last Thursday afternoon the vote was taken and unanimously carried to raise the yearly dues to $2. Those desiring to remain members of the club will please bring their dues this (Thursday) afternoon. The dues were raised in order to meet current expenses rather than give an entertainment.

At the last club meeting, sorrow was expressed by the loss of one of our brightest, most interested and interesting Club members in the death of Mrs. Lewis Walker, and it was ordered that sympathy be extended the bereaved family and friends by the Woman's Club thru the Woman's Club Column.
She has been called from labor to reward and we commend her sweet, womanly life to those who are called upon to fill her place in the home, in the church and in the club.

In bygone days there were but few professions and trades open to women, among them being teaching, domestic service, dressmaking and one or two others. In fact public opinion looked askance at any woman who branched out into any other line or showed any originality in getting her own living.
Now it is far different. The census bureau shows that over eighty occupations are now open to women, and they range all the way from coarse and heavy manual labor to the most dilatedant of work. This change is due to various causes, among them being the greater spirit of independence that young women now display, and which is largely owing to the college training many of them receive. In this connection it is interesting to note that in many of the colleges for women vocational conferences are now held every year.

But it is not the college young woman, nor the so-called new woman, that is entirely responsible. The growing disinclination of young men to marry, and the postponement of marriage to rather late in life has a good deal to do with it, for it means that many a young woman who in former years would have married and been the home keeper, has now to support herself. This matter of self support must inevitably assume greater proportions among the women in the nations engaged in the present war because of the millions of young men killed on the field of battle, or that die in the hospitals, or who return to their homes incapacitated for life.

We are pleased to note splendid work done by the women of the federated clubs in our sister cities.

First, Stanford had a "clean up" day, and one of her visitors remarked, "clean! well, I should say so, why Stanford looked like a bride adorned for her husband when those women got thru with her." Now they are to have oil applied to their streets, thanks to this same club that pledged half the money. The Interior Journal had the following to say:

"In the face of serious opposition and a strong sentiment at first in the Council against co-operating with them, the ladies went to work against odds, that would have daunted most men, and won a big victory. They investigated thoroughly the question of oil on streets, the cost and many advantages, and brought arguments to bear upon the six members of the board so that when the matter came to a vote last night there was not a dissenting voice to be heard."

The meeting of the Council was the most largely attended that has been held in a long time. About a dozen of the leading members of the Woman's Club were present, and many business men who are heartily in favor of applying the oil to the streets.
Mrs. Shelton Sauley, president of the Woman's Club, then made a brief statement of the desire of the women of the town to have the streets oiled in order to abate the dust nuisance.
She told of the canvass that had been made by the ladies for private subscriptions, and that generous contributions had been made, and promises of more if needed. She said the committee found a almost universal desire on the part of the citizens, and housekeepers over the city to try out the oiling process to allay the dust which is so bad during the summer season. She said the Woman's Club had about $250 on its subscription list and hoped that the Council would appropriate a similar amount and that it was believed that about $500 or $600 would be sufficient to cover the business section of the town and a good part of the residence section. Mrs. J. S. Owsley, of the Woman's Club, also gave some interesting information concerning the oil-ing process.

Mr. Shearer, of the Standard Oil Company, was present and gave facts and figures showing how oil applied to streets conserves them, and gave other valuable information to the council.
The clubs of Danville and Harrodsburg have likewise been active this Spring along civic lines.

ed, liberal and ever ready to do his part toward the upbuilding of Lancaster and we bespeak for him a good business.

CANDIDATES BUSY.

County Court Day brought many candidates to town and the politicians were kept busy throughout the day, with the farmers, pushing their claims for their respective offices. Judge Harglin and his friends never let any grass grow under their feet and were continually handing out the hand to the constituency. His opponent, Hon.
Charles Fox, was also on hand and was kept busy. Rodney Keenon, Emmett Puryear and J. S. Owsley, Jr., were laying claims to the Commonwealth Attorney job and all seem to have covered the ground thoroughly. Hon. John W. Newman, of Bardstown, made many friends here in the interest of his candidacy for Railroad Commissioner.
Billy Klair came in a little late, but soon made himself known and is working to retain his position, as Railroad Commissioner. The day was an ideal one and the town was crowded.

SCHOOL DISTRICT

Shows Handsome Increase.

That good schools are paying investments to any district is evidenced by the fact that the Lancaster Graded School district shows an increase over the year 1914, as shown by the census recently taken by Mr. E. W. Harris, who informs us that the number of children in the district this year is 428. Last years census showed 349, thus showing an increase of 79.

This should be a matter of congratulation and pride to the friends of education, to the County Superintendent, trustees and teachers, and the Record too, rejoices in what has been accomplished. In order that our own people might be fully cognizant of this, Mr. Harris has gone out into the by-ways and hedges and been untiring in obtaining correct figures. These figures are merely a reflex of what is going on in every district of our county that now has the spirit of progress and advancement so deeply imbedded in the minds of the people that nothing else will satisfy us until illiteracy is entirely wiped out and every child in the county is given an opportunity to obtain as good an education as can be secured anywhere.

MEETING OF DIXIE HIGHWAY

Commissioners Called For May 20.

After electing Clark Howell, of Atlanta, as permanent chairman, the Route Commission for the Dixie Highway, representing the seven States through which the highway will pass, fixed May 20 and Chattanooga as the date and place for another meeting, at which will be heard representatives of the various cities seeking to be along the line of the highway. In order to get at the facts desired the commission prepared a resolution covering the points upon which it wants information.

One of the interesting features of the session Friday was a talk by Carl G. Fisher, the originator of the Indianapolis Speedway, the Lincoln Highway and the Dixie Highway projects. Mr. Fisher said the commission should select the most direct route possible between Chicago and Miami, because the roadway would be used for fast long-distance travel more than for ordinary sightseeing expeditions, and that all interesting sights along the line of the highway would ultimately be connected with it by means of good roads, so that those who desired could detour and view such sights. He called attention to the fact that the telephone line between New York and San Francisco follows the most direct route possible, and that the line is only about fourteen miles longer than a direct route between Chicago and Miami would be.

There is said to be very strong support on the part of certain big interests to have the road pass through Cincinnati, Lexington and thence on an air line to Chattanooga.

High School Wins.

The Lancaster High School School Base Ball team won the opening game of the season, last Friday, when they took the sturdy nine from Danville, into camp, by the score of 7 to 6.

The game was interesting from start to finish and was indeed a pitchers battle, Danville started off in the first inning with one score, but was tied in the second by Lancaster, and so on throughout the game and it was hard to tell which side had the best players, no one could tell how the score stood until the ninth inning with two men out and one man on second, when "Bud" Bryant came to the bat for Boyle's Capital and drove a hard line drive to deep left field, Price, like a "Wild Cat" on his feet ran a long distance and "hooked" the horse hide, which saved for Lancaster, possibly the game. Hard hitting and fielding by both teams were much admired by the large number of spectators.

Bourne, of the local nine, pitched a good game and was given the best of support by the entire team.

Four home runs were gotten in the game two for Lancaster by Lackey and Tatem, the other two for "Little Britton" by Veatch and Bryant.

L. H. S. deserves much credit, for the clean and high class ball put up by the entire team.

Following are the players:

D. H. S.	S. S.	L. H. S.
Veatch	R. F.	Herron
King	L. F.	Wilmott
Coranster	C. F.	Price
Bryant	3rd B.	Walker
J. Davis	1st B.	Jenkins
J. Wine	C	Woods
Rue	2nd B.	Lackey
Ford	P.	Tatem
H. Davis		Bourne

The playing of Lackey with his "Teg" to second, Herron, Price and Tatem were the admired of the game.

Umpire Harry Anderson, score keepers Miller and Tate, time of game 1 hour 40 minutes.

KENTUCKY GENTLEMAN

No. 5167 A. S. H. R.

is a handsome chestnut with beautiful mane and tail; is 15.8 hands and will weigh about 1,150 pounds; has the very best of feet and legs; good flat bone, broad sloping shoulders; short, stout back and a horse of the most wonderful endurance. He is an impressive horse, standing still and is more so in motion; sets himself just right, never touches himself anywhere and has exceptional speed at the rack and trot. He was one of the most successful horses shown last year. He was shown at three fairs and won the combined stallion class at each place.

Kentucky Gentleman has the qualities that are necessary to the production of a perfect horse—color, size, style, speed, action, and endurance, and ideal breeding. He is sired by Chester Peavine 3184, by Rex Peavine 1796, by Rex McDonald 833. Dam, Flora Carter 8419, by Red Squirrel 53, by Black Squirrel 58, by Black Eagle 74, by King William 67.

In offering the services of this grand young horse to the public, I feel that I am giving them their money's worth. Give him the same class of mares and I do not believe there is a horse in the State that will beat him producing high class colts (no matter how high the service fee.) Breeding to Kentucky Gentleman is no longer an experiment. Biting him a good mare and he will get you an extra good colt. Do not take your mares thirty or forty miles to breed when you have just as good a horse fight at home and for less than half the money.

Kentucky Gentleman will make the season at my home, one mile from Stanford, on the Danville pike at $20.00 to insure a living colt. Money due when colt is foaled. Care taken to prevent accidents, but not responsible should any occur.

J. NEVIN CARTER,

Stanford, Ky.

$10.00 To Insure a Living Colt.

Squirrel Peavine is a solid black, 16 hands high and has as much style as Old Rex Peavine and can do just as much if handled a little. He has never been handled as a show horse but has won a good many ties. I will also stand a three year old Percheon horse at $8.00 to insure a living colt.

Also at the same time and place will stand THREE GOOD JACKS at $8.00 for horses mule and $10. for mare mule.

Foreign demand has exhausted the supply and we may expect better prices for our horses in the future. Our advice to mare owners is to breed their mares and to breed them to stallions of merit and proven worth as sires. Bleucher is just the type to produce the colts that will supply the demand. His colts have proven fine, with nice head and neck and plenty of bone and conformation.

Picked Up at Sea

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

We were sailing on the Australian coast when a boat was spotted by the lookout. She was an ordinary ship's lifeboat, open, and was drifting merrily on the waves in the bright sunlight. When she came nearer we counted nine men in her. She was heading for us, and the captain gave an order to slow down. As soon as she came alongside a man in the bow hailed us and asked us to take them aboard.

The captain questioned them, and they told him that they were members of the crew of a ship that had collided with another in a fog and had gone to the bottom. He asked how long ago that was and they said a week. Then he asked what had become of the officers and the rest of the crew and was told that they had gone down with the ship. There was only time to get out the one boat before she sank.

The story didn't appeal to the captain as being likely, but he could not refuse to take the men aboard and did so. As soon as they came aboard we saw that their faces were by no means attractive. They asked our captain for what port he was bound and when he said Melbourne I noticed that on the faces of some of them was a scared look, while others seemed to be saying to themselves, "Not if we can prevent it."

I made up my mind that the men were mutineers and had either been put off a ship or sunk a ship or something of the kind, but when they were put to work they showed such ignorance of everything that I changed my opinion. That they were not what they purported to be was evident, but what they were we had no means of knowing.

Our ship was a small steamer, not needing a numerous crew. We usually carried eighteen men, including captain and mate, I being mate, but now we were reduced to twelve.

One evening one of our regular crew came to me and told me that the strangers had taken weapons from the ship's armory and hidden them in the hold. The captain was asleep in his cabin at the time, and I preferred to act on the information rather than wake him up. He was a headstrong man and was liable to give our enemies the advantage by some rash act.

I sent for the man who had been spokesman when we met them and asked him whether he and his men preferred to make some other port than Melbourne. He admitted that they would, but when I asked him where they would like to put in he said that they preferred not to stop at an Australian port at all. I told him to consult with his mates as to what they wanted and let me know.

I did this to put the strangers off their guard and gain time. It was evident, from their not wishing to go ashore in Australian territory, that they were criminals. After consulting with the others the leader came back and told me that they would like to be put out in a large boat we carried which was rigged with a sail and in part decked over. Of course they would need to be provisioned.

This was a dead giveaway on their part and showed that they were desperate, for they had no knowledge of navigation and would be in the mercy of the winds and waters. I pretended to concede to their request and directed that they come on deck and get the boat ready to be lowered. As soon as they went to work I sent men to collect the weapons they had stolen. When this was done I stationed men in different parts of the vessel, all armed. Then I began to send the strangers in different directions for different articles they would need on their voyage. Some were sent for provisions, some for water, some for blankets, some for fuel.

I first ordered their spokesman, who was kinder as well, to take two men with him and go down to the hold for some salt pork. He obeyed and three of the nine men went below not to reappear again, for as soon as they got into the dark hold hands were clapped on their mouths and they were removed to the brig. As soon as it was reported to me that they had been captured I sent two more men to the sail room for canvas. They, too, were secured, and within twenty minutes from the time they had started to get the boat ready I had them all under lock and key.

When the captain appeared on deck the next morning and I told him that the strangers had stolen arms he looked serious. Then when I told him that I had the men secured he was astonished, not being able to understand how he could have slept through a mutiny. Finally when I gave him my plan and the manner of its accomplishment he repented me for acting without his orders.

A few days later we reached port. I went to the municipal office and stated the case, to be told that nine persons serving terms in a prison near the coast had escaped. A boat was missing, and it was supposed they had taken it and put to sea. Government officers were looking for them, but thus far had seen nothing of them.

The men were taken in charge by the police and returned to the prison. Their leader told me before leaving that they had planned to take the ship the very night I executed the plan that resulted in their capture.

NOW HER FRIENDS HARDLY KNOW HER

But This Does Not Bother Mrs. Burton, Under the Circumstances.

Houston, Texas.—In an interesting letter from this city, Mrs. S. C. Burton writes as follows: "I think it is my duty to tell you what your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done for me.

I was down sick with womanly trouble, and my mother advised several different treatments, but they didn't seem to do me any good. I lingered along for three or four months, and for three weeks, I was in bed, so sick I couldn't bear for any one to walk across the floor.

My husband advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. I have taken two bottles of Cardui, am feeling fine, gained 15 pounds and do all of my housework. Friends hardly know me, I am so well."

If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, don't allow the trouble to become chronic. Begin taking Cardui to-day. It is purely vegetable, its ingredients acting in a gentle, natural way on the weakened womanly constitution. You run no risk in trying Cardui. It has been helping weak women back to health and strength for more than 50 years. It will help you. At all dealers.

FAMOUS "MOVIE" CHARACTER DEAD.

John Bunny, who delighted in the title, "the Homeliest Man in the World" and who is said to have drawn down a salary estimated at from $500 to $700 a week for his antics, died at his home in Brooklyn Monday. He had been ill about three weeks of a complication of diseases.

Bunny was known not only all over the United States, but in all corners of the globe. Even in China, India and the South Sea Islands John Bunny's face and figure have made the natives laugh.

A year ago Bunny left moving pictures to take out a show on the road. This show appeared in Louisville the week before Christmas, and the comedian contributed his services to the Anti-Tuberculosis Association, selling his own photographs and Christmas seals for the benefit of the Waverly Hill Sanatorium funds. Since then he has not been before the camera, but many Bunny films still are being shown for thousands were taken when he was in active harness.

DANVILLE'S FIRST-BORN.

Rev. R. R. Noel, of Stanford, who is possibly the best-known evangelist in the Baptist church through Central Kentucky, was here yesterday for a visit to his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Parks. This faithful old Christian soldier has given all his life, since a boy, to evangelical work, and many people have been brought into the church through his work. He told a Messenger reporter that he was born in Danville in a house situated where The Messenger office now stands, and was the first baby born in the corporate limits of this city. This was seventy-three years ago. He prides himself on this, as he is devoted to the old town and her people. He has many warm friends here, who trust he will be spared many years more of usefulness and happiness. During his present visit, Mrs. Parks served a beautiful birthday dinner, at which all his children, except the son, were present. — Danville Messenger.

He also has many warm friends in Lancaster who wish him the same and but for his own statement (not the Messengers) we would have supposed he was born in Lancaster, so closely is he identified with us.
